- Send DVD screeners to: Michael Callan, Outdoor Channel, 43445 Business Park Dr. #103, Temecula, CA 92590. (We may request a tape submission at a later date.)
- Producer understands that Outdoor Channel receives stories, plots, incidents, ideas, formulas, formats, and general content from many sources including Outdoor Channel's personnel and shall not make any claim against Outdoor Channel based upon any programs aired on the network, whether produced by Outdoor Channel or an independent company, that may appear similar in stories, plots, incidents, ideas, formulas, formats, and general content.
- Outdoor Channel's willingness to review the submission shall not be construed (and neither party shall hold itself out as being) a partnership, joint venture, or any relationship other than that of independent contractor. Review of the pilot/episode does not guarantee acceptance of the show. It is inappropriate to use the Outdoor Channel logo in any sales literature, or sales material, printed or electronic, prior to receiving written notification of an approval.
- If I am notified that the show meets the standards of the channel, I understand that the next step is negotiating fees and airtimes, based on supply and demand.
- I understand that Outdoor Channel's sole obligation is to approve or deny the program based on its technical and thematic content, and the channel's need for programming in that particular genre.
- I further understand that my submission materials will not be returned

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS:

- Programming must be shot and edited on professional equipment, providing audio and video that meets or exceeds the broadcast standards.
- Outdoor Channel encourages all producers to plan to film and submit programs in High Definition (HD), as this will be the only accepted standard beginning in the 3rd Quarter of 2010.
- For all other technical requirements please consult the 2009/2010 Outdoor Channel Production Guidelines, available on our website.
